

It's a Long 3,000 Miles Away ---But 'Worker' Brings It Close

By BEN BURNS

It's a long 3,000 miles of open ocean between Spain and the United States, the geography books say.

But history books will tell a different story of the distance between the American and Spanish people when some tottering grand daddy tells his grand children some years from now about the closeness of the workers of the two republics in Spain's battle for democracy.

The binding ties between the peoples of the two republics can be vividly seen in the million dollars worth of food, clothing, and medical supplies that has gone over to Madrid staunch defenders. But there is still more graphic evidence in the nation's growing understanding of the Spanish situation which was so clearly grasped in the historic words of La Pasionaria:

"It is better to die standing than to live on one's knees."

PLEA FOR AID

No one knows that better than Senora Isabel de Palencia, slight and unassuming leader of the Spanish government delegation which toured America from coast to coast with her plea for aid for fighting Spanish democracy.

The ever-smiling Senora Palencia, who is now in Stockholm, Sweden, as Spanish ambassador, visited 43 cities and spoke to more than 300,000 people along with Father Luis Sarasola, brave little Catholic priest, and Marcelino Domingo, scholarly president of Spain's Left Republican Party.

As she stepped on the huge liner Queen Mary on her way back to Europe, she told me:

"I have strong assurance of the solidarity of the American people with the Spanish workers. Although at first Americans did not understand the Spanish problem, today I believe there is real sympathy for the Spanish people."

She further recognized the solidarity between America and Spain in a letter which is published on this page.

First and foremost she acknowledged the role played by those American and Canadian newspapers, "particularly the Labor Press," which brought the true story of Spain to the American people.

Outstanding in the field of American labor journalism, the Daily and Sunday Worker have been the most consistent papers in bringing to light this story of Spain's struggle for freedom, in daring to tell the truth "in the face of violent propaganda and powerful forces working against my country," as Senora Palencia put it.

And for the Spanish people this function "cannot possibly be measured," she says.

LED CAMPAIGN

The Sunday Worker has constantly led the campaign for aid to Spain. It has reported news of the battle of Spanish workers that is suppressed by other papers. It was the only paper to publish photos of the Spanish war which were destroyed by the nation's press. It exposed admitted fascist bias of Associated Press in Spanish war stories.

Today the Sunday Worker, which has conducted this relentless campaign for Spain, is in a critical financial situation and is conducting a drive for $100,000. It needs help from the very workers it has been helping for 13 years now.

Today the Sunday Worker needs your help to continue its unstinting work in bringing to the American people the real story of the Spanish people. Surely you will not forsake the workers of Spain in their hour of need.

Spain needs the help of the Sunday Worker.

Help Spain by helping the Sunday Worker.

Dear Mr. Hodgson:-

Through you I wish to extend my sincerest thanks, and the gratitude of my colleagues of the Spanish Delegation, to those newspapers in the United States and Canada, particularly the Labor Press, which during our tour supported us and the cause for which we came to America.

It is with the deepest gratitude that I commend these few papers, which in the face of violent propaganda and powerful forces working against my country, have dared to tell the truth.

During our stay of scarcely two months we have spoken to over 300,000 people, the press during the same time has reached many millions more. The value of newspaper publicity to the cause of Democracy in Spain cannot possibly be measured.

I wish to extend also, in the name of my people and the colleagues who have traveled with me, our thanks to the Committees throughout the country who have worked so loyally that our message might reach the people who so sorely needed to hear it. We wish also to thank The North American Committee and the Canadian Committee for their splendid work. In the name of Democracy I urge you to continue the work which you have so nobly started.

Thanking you again, I am,

Sincerely,

Isabella de Palencia
Isabella de Palencia.

A letter from Isabella de Palencia, now Spanish ambassador to Sweden, praising the work of the labor press in America for its aid to the Spanish people. Immediate funds to the Daily Worker will enable it to continue this noble work of defense against the Fascist aggressors.

Re: Recruiting of Combatants
for Spain.

Information has been received from an anonymous outside contributor that DAVE DORAN was active in December 1936 at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, endeavoring to recruit young men who had training in the armed forces, such as the National Guard or regular Army, to go to Spain to fight with the Loyalists and that Doran had stated he had obtained JIM STONE from the National Guard, an ex-General from the United States Army and several others from the National Guard and Army to go to Spain to fight with the Loyalist Government.

Re: SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES - GENERAL
Bureau file #61-7559

Dear Sir:

On the evening of February 10, 1937, Special Agent George J. Starr of this Division attended a meeting in Mecca Temple Auditorium which was held under the auspices of "The New Masses" and the American Society For Technical Aid to Spanish Democracy. Malcolm Cowley, Editor of the "New Republic" (See Red Network pages 208 and 273), was the Chairman and introduced the speakers.

Mr. Cowley touched on the local situation with reference to Spanish activities to the extent of stating that while men cannot be sent to fight in the Spanish Army, supplies and technical men can be sent to relieve Spanish technical men who can take their places in the trenches. Cowley is a forceful speaker and in his talk he was very critical of the attitude of the press on the Spanish situation, stating that the press seemed to indicate a sympathy for the Rebels as against the established recognized democratic government of Madrid. He also denounced the so-called Neutrality Legislation which he stated was in effect not neutrality but a refusal to aid a Government which we have recognized and which is threatened with a rebellion against its existence.

Mr. Cowley also indicated that it was impossible to get any truth on the Spanish situation from the American press. Cowley introduced Anna Louise Strong, the well-known writer, as a descendant of ancestors who had pioneered in the early days of this country and who herself had pioneered as a writer in Soviet Russia and subsequently in Spain from which place she but recently returned.

Anna Louise Strong is a good speaker but her speech was devoted to what might be described as painting word pictures of the types of persons she met during her travels through Spain during the pre-Civil War days. She described the Catholic individual, the anarchist, the Communist and others. The point which she made aside from her description of the beauties of the country and admirable qualities of these various types, was that they are all sincere and united in a fight for a democratic Spain and that they express the belief that they are fighting for the world's democracy; that on their success or failure rests the future of the World as to whether it shall be Fascist or democratic.

The next speaker was Ralph ~~Bates~~* Bates. Bates is a man who has worked on the docks in Spain and in England in addition to his other varied experiences and subsequently wrote several books which were stated to have been very popular depicting the fight of the Spanish workers for democratic freedom. During his early years in Spain he became a participant in labor activities and was in various strikes and other demonstrations of waterfront workers. He has been with the Spanish Loyalist Army since practically the beginning of the present conflict and participated in the campaigns of that Army.

Although an Englishman, he speaks with very little (cockney) accent and is an extremely forceful and convincing speaker and the presentation of his talk was very dramatic. He described the incident which he witnessed in the beginning of the present conflict when a regiment of infantry marched out of their barracks in one of the cities equipped with rifles, some thirty or more machine guns, and four pieces of field artillery, and how the workers, armed with sticks, stones, pick handles and such other improvised weapons practically bare handed, attacked these troops who were then marching to join Franco and had defeated them in a hand to hand conflict and wrested from them their machine guns, rifles and field pieces and used one of the field pieces to blow a hole in the wall of the barracks to enable the workers to gain entrance to the barracks and arm themselves.

Bates described the activities in the field when they were actually on the firing line when a small percentage of the men were armed while the rest had no fire arms at all and when it came time to charge the enemy, the armed men went over the top first and were followed by other men unarmed. It was the task of these unarmed men to rush forward and take up the rifles and ammunition of any of the armed men who might fall in the combat. Behind them followed other lines of unarmed men and Bates stated that it was indeed a peculiar sensation to be rushing forward in an attack with the realization that behind you followed an unarmed man waiting only for you to drop that he might take up your rifle and continue on.

During the fighting, the Loyalist troops were helpless against the air raids of the German planes operating with Franco's Rebel Army and he related as probably the most dramatic incident ever witnessed in his entire experience the day when he and a commander of the army were on the roof of a building watching operations of the troops and heard the heavy groan of a bombing plane approaching. Everyone scampered for safety in dugouts, ruins of buildings and elsewhere and as they did so, Bates observed that the oncoming plane was a large German bomber, but suddenly another sound was heard, the sound of airplane motors, but airplanes which were immediately recognized from the sound as not being the antiquated commercial planes which the Loyalists were forced to use for military purposes. These planes approached rapidly and were silver-gray, two-seated fighting planes sent by the Soviet Republic to help fight on the side of the Loyalists to help preserve the democratic government of Spain.

He stated that the knowledge that at last one of the democratic nations of the World had come to their assistance just as the Fascist nations -- Italy and Germany -- had come to the aid of Fascist Franco, the entire spirit and attitude of the Loyalist troops and of the entire population changed from that moment on and they are still confident that they will win the War.

Bates disclaims any political interests or views other than a deep, sincere desire to see democracy victorious against Fascism and he also stated that it is the belief of the Spanish people and of himself that unless Fascism is defeated in Europe, it will menace all of the nations and it will be but a question of time until this country will have to combat Fascism just as the Government of Spain is doing today.

After Bates finished his talk and after the singing of Spanish marching songs by a soloist and later by a chorus to the accompaniment of the Spanish band, the collection was taken up by Cowley. He started with a solicitation for a substantial contribution to finance the sending to Spain of a young man who had written in seeking an opportunity to go to Spain to do something for Spanish democracy, excerpts having been read from a number of letters including the letter written by this individual. All of this, of course, was for the purpose of arousing the audience to the proper pitch for the solicitation for contributions. A contribution of $160 was made by a woman seated near Agent Starr who, shortly before that, had taken a large quantity of money from her handbag which she counted and divided into packages one of which she handed to the woman who was with her and the other of which she turned in as the $160 contribution, attaching to it a piece of paper indicating that it was "from a friend". A total of slightly over $1500 was raised but the bulk of this was raised after Bates went to the microphone and began to exhort the audience to more and more contributions. The audience was not very large as is indicated by the amount collected. Agent Starr communicated with the management of Mecca Temple and was informed that the attendance at the meeting was approximately 2400 people.

Of the two speakers mentioned, Anna Louise Strong and Ralph Bates, neither went into any matters relating to affairs in this country other than to indicate that the threat of Fascism should be realized by this country and that the people here were not giving the true story of the situation in Spain or at least, did not appear to understand what was going on there.

The next and last speaker was Robert ~~Minor~~, member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party, who recently was in Spain ostensibly as a reporter for the "Daily Worker". Minor expressed some regret at not being in Spain in the fight at the present time. He then launched into an attack on Franco and his supporters -- Hitler and Mussolini -- particularly Hitler, and from this, he passed into a violent attack on William Randolph ~~Hearst~~ and denounced the misleading pictures published in the Hearst newspapers and the lying information distributed through Hearst newspapers on the situation in Spain.

After elaborating at great length on this topic, Minor passed on to a denunciation of Max ~~Eastman~~. He stated Max Eastman was responsible for some of the anti-Loyalist articles appearing in a recent edition of a magazine. He then included Leon ~~Trotsky~~ whom he described as Eastman's master. Minor's talk was a typical Communist speech and the talk resembled that of a politician as is usually pictured in fiction and movies with great waving of arms and other gestures. One of these gestures was the moving of the two microphones away from the speakers' stand. By the time Minor was warmed up to his subject, people began leaving the hall and while he received a great ovation, there apparently were many people present who were not sufficiently^{ly} impressed by his talk to remain to hear the end of it.

"The New Masses" apparently included in the meeting a subscription campaign and on each seat, all of which incidentally were reserved, was an envelope sealed and marked "Not to be opened until you reach home". In this envelope there was found a mimeographed leaflet soliciting a subscription to "The New Masses". The leaflet and the two envelopes are being forwarded herewith to the Bureau. It is noted that the Spanish situation, the General Motors strike and the Trotsky affair are mentioned in the first paragraph of the sales letter as being subjects covered in the publication.

Other literature distributed and forwarded herewith to the Bureau includes the following:

A leaflet advertising three basketball games for Spain at the New York Hippodrome, February 19, 1937, the tickets being distributed among other places and by the North American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy.

~~X~~ A leaflet advertising a motion picture entitled "Thunder Over Mexico" which is being presented by the Progressive Members of Local 32 B, ~~X~~ Building Service Employees International Union, American Federation of Labor, at the American Ballrooms, 308 West 59th Street, New York City. This presentation is to be followed by "Millions of Us", a dramatization of labor's struggle. It should be noted that the building service employees in the city are at the present time conducting strikes against many large buildings.

The printed solicitation for contributions to a $100,000 fund for an American Base Hospital in Spain which leaflets are distributed at almost all local meetings, were also distributed at this meeting.

A mimeographed release advertising a full length lecture by Ralph Bates to be given on Friday, February 12, 1937, at 8:30 p.m. at the Rand School Auditorium, 7 East 15th Street, New York City, where he will speak on "Spain--Battleground of Democracy". The Chairman is Herschell Brickell of the "New York Post". This lecture is advertised as Bates' last public appearance before he returns to Spain. He is described as the author of "The ~~X~~Olive Field" and ~~X~~"Lean Men" and as a man who has lived in Spain for the last ten years and is returning to Spain February 15, 1937.

There was also distributed a card soliciting aid for the American Society for Technical Aid to Spanish Democracy to send technical workers to help the Spanish people defeat Fascism. This card as well as the other literature referred to above is forwarded to the Bureau herewith.

X A book stand was set up in the lobby of the building where radical literature was on sale. There is forwarded herewith a copy of ~~X~~"Health and Hygiene", February, 1937 issue which is a publication of considerable circulation among the radical element in this city. It is published by the H & H Publishing Company and is the official organ of the ~~X~~Peoples Health Education League. The editors are Carl ~~X~~Malmberg and John ~~X~~Stuart. The business manager is Sadie ~~X~~Franklin. Attention is directed to an advertisement on the inside of the back cover directed to the Youth of America inviting them to join the Pilgrimage to Washington on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, February 19th to 22nd inclusive. This advertisement states "For further information about the Pilgrimage (lodging, program, etc.) write to ~~X~~American Youth Congress, 55 West 42nd Street, New York City".

Attention is also invited to an advertisement on the same page for ~~X~~"State of Affairs", a publication dealing with New York City and State Politics, health, housing, education, finances, gas and electric rates, etc. It is published by the ~~X~~Civic Research Bureau, 799 Broadway, New York City. The subscription price is 50¢ per year.

Very truly yours,

R. Whitley,

HOSPITAL GROUP SAILS FOR SPAIN

Sixteen in Party Leave on the Liner Paris to Treat Wounded Loyalists.

Cheered by a hundred friends and sympathizers of Loyalist Spain, the first American surgical unit and ambulance corps to go to the aid of the defenders of Madrid sailed yesterday on the French liner Paris. Headed by Dr. Edward H. Barsky of 127 West Eighty-sixth Street, the unit was composed of sixteen men and women with four ambulances and twelve tons of medical and hospital supplies valued at $30,000. The contingent was organized by the Medical Bureau of the American Friends of Spanish Democracy.

The departure of the unit marks the first step in a drive for $100,000 for the establishment of an American-base hospital, probably in Valencia. The unit will function as an independent outfit, but will join the British medical unit in Madrid, and serve with the American unit in the event of a need.

ANTI-FASCIST MOVEMENTS

According to a communication dated December 27, 1936 received from an anonymous outside source and not verified by investigation, information was secured from a source close to the inner circles of the Communist Party to the effect that the District Committee of the Communist Party (Chicago District No. 8) is endeavoring to secure a quota of 200 recruits from the Chicago area to serve in the Spanish Loyalist Army, and has formed a committee to act in the recruiting.

Information received from another anonymous outside source indicates that at the National Plenum of the Young Communist League held at Chicago beginning January 1, 1937, the matter of the duty of the Young Communist League to aid Spain was discussed, and Gil Green, National Secretary, stated that the Y.C.L. must raise money to buy food, munitions and any wartime necessities for the Spanish Government. In line with the general Communist policy, he described the conflict in Spain as one between Fascism and Democracy, and stated that the Y.C.L. must mobilize all liberal thinking people to support the Spanish Government and should carry out large demonstrations at the German Consulate against Germany's action toward Spain.

A report was also made by the Spanish Commission of the plenum which reported the work for the Spanish people to be very unsatisfactory. The commission proposed the following activities to aid Spain:

1. Holding of mass meetings to arouse sympathy for the Spanish people.
2. Expose the Trotskyites and their methods of work against the Spanish
3. Special drives for the mass distribution of the pamphlet written by the N.E.C. on the Spanish situation
4. Activising of organizations and committees by inviting the Spanish delegates to speak
5. City-wide tageries for the Spanish People. It is stated that New York raised $1200 in such campaigns.

GET CLOTHES FOR SPAIN

University Groups Aid Students Fighting Against Fascists

If the ship gets through, the clothes, collegiate cut of John Smith, '38, will cover the body of a brother student in far-off Spain this winter.

In a drive sponsored by the American Student Union, colleges in New York State are conducting a collection of food, money and clothing for the relief of the Spanish people. After the Thanksgiving holiday which marks the peak of the collection campaign, the material will be sent to Spain.

Columbia, New York University, Brooklyn and City College, aided by the student councils and undergraduates, are the leaders in the metropolitan area. At New York University Heights, a huge model ship placed on the campus is gradually being filled with supplies. At the other colleges, booths are situated about the campus grounds.

Tomorrow an old-fashioned horse and buggy will draw up to the City College School of Business entrance, 23rd Street and Lexington Avenue, and student clothing for the aid of the fighters for the Spanish Government will be gathered.

The American Student Union, is to assist the loyalist forces and supporters.

George Watt, executive head of the New York State District, said: "Another fascist government, abetted and incited by Hitler and Mussolini, threatens the peace of the world, and the college youth have responded enthusiastically to our appeal. They have thrown their full support behind those who battle for their democratic rights against the fascist and Hitler schemes to 'rehabilitate' fifteen years of the 'Aid Spain' campaign. The attitude of the general student body to these facts."

The collection was started after an appeal by Federal Union of Spanish Students.

BERNARD HITS 'NEUTRALITY'

16 American Medical Corps Volunteers Sail For Spain Tomorrow

(Full text of Bernard's speech will appear in the Sunday Worker of Jan. 24.)

Blasting the mock neutrality law passed by Congress against democratic Spain, Congressman John T. Bernard, Farmer-Laborite of Minnesota, last night declared the embargo meant "the U. S. Government officially supports the fascists of Spain and of the world."

Bernard, the only representative who voted against the sham embargo in Congress, spoke at the Manhattan Opera House ballroom at a send-off for the first American ambulance and medical corps to Madrid.

Energetically attacking the menace of world fascism, the former Eveleth, Minn., mine union head warned the American people that their country is in danger from the "monster" of fascism if we do not assist those fighting against it.

ASSAILS EMBARGO

He urged a foreign policy which "will try to preserve and protect the democratic forms of government in other parts of the world."

sional embargo, Bernard told his listeners:

"In effect this embargo says, 'We the Congress of the United States in the hope of preventing us from getting into a foreign entanglement will be neutral. We will boycott both the lawfully democratic elected government and the rebels. In other words, boycott both the police and the underworld.'"

NOT PEOPLE'S WISH

"Those who make millions out of human misery and bloodshed decided long ago that real democracy shall not be tolerated on earth. What matters if Italy, Germany and Portugal are sending troops and munitions to crush the spirit of liberty in Spain, a friendly sister republic? Our money lords, the worshippers of the golden calf, those who know only one flag, the sign of the almighty dollar, are thoroughly satisfied.

"That is their wish and desire."

Bernard then accused Congress of placing "the blessings of our government on the bloody murder of Spanish toilers, peasants and their loved ones.

"This is not the wish of the American people." —

LEAVE SATURDAY

All of the members of the unit appeared at the farewell in the uniforms which they will wear in their work in Madrid. The 16 volunteers will leave on the Paris Saturday morning for Havre. From there they proceed to Paris where they will purchase additional supplies.

They expect to enter Spain at Port Bou and immediately place themselves at the disposal of the Spanish Ministry of Health. They will be temporarily housed with the British Medical Unit until a base hospital is set up.

Other speakers at the meeting were the Rev. Harman Reissig of the North American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy and Dr. Henry E. Sigerist of the John Hopkins University Medical School. Col. Frank T. Woodbury, retired U. S. Medical Corps doctor, presided.

Ernest Hemingway and John Dos Passos, famed novelists who are sponsors for the medical corps, met the unit at a morning meeting at the Medical Bureau offices.

Speaking to reporters, Hemingway scored the failure of the Red Cross to aid the fallen soldiers in the Spanish conflict.

THE FIRST UNIT

"The Red Cross has done nothing about the belabored people of Spain," he said. "We ought to have some service there.

Both writers, who drove ambulances during the war, said if they were needed they would man ambulances in Spain. Both intend to

A train carrying 600 civilians evacuated from Madrid was bombed from the air and 40 were injured about 35 miles southeast of the city. An armored train rushed the wounded to the town of Alcazar.

AMERICAN LEAGUE AGAINST WAR
AND FASCISM

From an anonymous outside source there has been received a copy of Volume One, No. 2 of the bulletin put out by the American League against War and Fascism, this issue being dated November 12, 1936. This issue announces the Midwest Conference of the American League against War and Fascism to be held in Chicago, January 8 to 10, 1937 and states that the Reverend Ralph M. Comper of Milwaukee is in Chicago much of the time preparing for it. The bulletin also points out that the November issue of "The Fight" carries an article by Jerome Davis.

The bulletin sets out that the most important event of December will be the meeting for the Spanish delegation to be held on Friday, December 4, 1936, the delegation consisting of Isabelle Palencia, whose sister teaches at Wellesley College, Marcelino Domingo, formerly Minister of Education and a Professor of the University of Madrid, and the Reverend Father Luis Sarascola. It is stated that the delegation is in the United States under the auspices of the North American Committee to aid Spanish Democracy of which the chairman is Bishop Robert S. Woodcock of the Episcopal Church, the treasurer, Eleanor Copenhaver of the Industrial Department of the Y.W.C.A. and of which the Executive Committee is composed of Margaret Forsyth, Teachers College, Columbia University; Dorothy Detser, General Secretary of the Womens International League for Peace and Freedom; Mary Fox of the League for Industrial Democracy; C. J. Hendley, Vice President of the American Federation of Teachers; Dale Kramer (it may be noted that Dale Kramer is one of the editors of the magazine "Midwest"); J. Lash; A. A. McLeod; Guy Emery Miller; and Josephine Schoin.

The Chicago Committee consists of Frank G. Spencer, Executive Secretary, Paul Douglas, Charles W. Burton, Janet McDowell, Dr. Eric Von Schroetter and others. It is important to note that the bulletin states the Chicago Committee is operating with the full cooperation of Louis Perez, the Spanish Consul.

In connection with the recent elections the bulletin points out that the enormous vote for Roosevelt indicates several things: First, that the "Red" scare did not work and second, that the Fascist minded people, especially Hearst, were thoroughly discredited.

With reference to John Haynes Holmes, the bulletin states that he had encouraged the league in its work and thinks that the churches of America can be activated in the fight against War and Fascism.

The bulletin contains a statement of cash receipts and disbursements of the league for the period September 21, 1936 to October 31, 1936 among which there is an item of $110 set out as a share of proceeds to Labor's Red Cross for Spain, together with gross receipts of $830.33 received from the Spanish Fiesta and Dance, October 11.

There has also been received from an anonymous outside contributor a copy of "The Call to Action" issued by the midwest region of the American League against War and Fascism, announcing the conference to be held at Chicago on January 8, and 10. Among the endorsements, affiliations and executive committee are the following: Central Trades and Labor Council, Kenosha, Wisconsin; Central Trades and Labor Council, Pontiac, Michigan; Amalgamated Clothing Workers, Joint Board, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; E. A. Ross, Wisconsin; Mrs. Victor L. Berger, Wisconsin; Sander Genis, Minnesota; Professor Robert Morris Lovett, Illinois, and others.

Trade and labor unions, religious organizations and educational societies are requested to send two delegates for the first 250 members or less, and one for each additional 250 or major fraction thereof, and all other organizations in the same proportion. Speakers on the conference program are announced as Dr. Harry F. Ward, A.L.A.W.F.; Bishop Edgar Blake, Methodist Episcopal Church, Detroit, Michigan; Mrs. Victor L. Berger, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Mr. Van A. Bittner, S.W.O.C.

An anonymous communication dated January 26, 1937 received from an outside source and not verified by investigation sets out the more important resolutions passed by the Midwest Conference of the A.L.A.W.F. at Chicago, Illinois, January 8 to 10, 1937.

Resolution #4 puts the conference on record as being opposed to any form of industrial mobilization in the event of war.

Resolution #6 records the conference as being in favor of the activities of the La Follette Committee in its investigation of the infringement of civil rights, and requests the National Officers to petition Congress to grant additional appropriations for the La Follette Committee.

Resolution #11 demands Federal and State legislation to disarm corporations and to forbid the sale of arms, ammunition and gas to private corporations or their Agents, make the possession of the same illegal, impose a penalty on public officials who permit the transfer of arms from law enforcement agencies to private corporations, and make the hiring of private guards illegal. Coupled with and supplementing this legislative program, the league promises to take action to protect labor organizations and maintain the conditions of legality which make the exercise of these rights possible.

Resolution #13 deals with National and racial minorities and is designed to secure negro support for the league.

It is stated that the report of the credentials committee showed there were 175 delegates representing 124 organizations with a membership of 300,295 in the following nine states: Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Michigan, Missouri, Pennsylvania. 80 SPONSOR ANTI-FASCIST PARLEY HERE

2 Congressmen, Union Leader to Speak at Conference

The fourth annual conference* of the New York City division of the American League Against War and Fascism will take place Jan. 29 and 30 under the sponsorship of 80 persons prominent in religious, cultural and trade union circles.

The Jan. 29 sessions will be in the Stuyvesant High School. Speakers will include Representatives Gerald B. Bolleau of Wisconsin and John Bernard of Minnesota, Ashley P. Totten, secretary-treasurer of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, and James Waterman Wise, journalist.

CONFERENCE AGENDA

The sessions on Jan. 30 will take place in the New School for Social Research. The afternoon session will be divided into ten commissions to take up trade union, women and peace group, youth, religious, anti-Nazi and language group, veterans, Negro, cultural, fraternal and organizational problems.

Resolutions regarding the contemplated boycott of the Max Schmeling "good will" tour in March and the scheduled Schmeling-Brad-dock boxing match in June will be introduced.

Among the active sponsors of the conference are Professor Morris Raphael Cohen of City College of New York; Morris Carnovsky of the Group Theatre; Rabbi and Mrs. Stephen S. Wise; Sam Perlmutter, manager of Local 10 of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union; Dr. Mortimer Berman, of the Free Synagogue, and the Rev. David de Sola Pool, Rabbi of the Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue of New York.

ASSAILS FASCISM

Announcing his support of the conference, Dr. de Sola Pool said:

"A consistent fascism must either 'coordinate' the Church as a function of the totalitarian state, or relegate it to the category of non-essentials in comparison with the all-engrossing corporative state. Where there is fascism with its ethics of force and ideals of power, there is no room for religious ethics of justice, altruism and love. Youth under fascism has to be trained for war and fascist service, and therefore it cannot ally itself with the youth movements of the churches. In a word, fascism means a war to the death with the churches because the ideals of fascism are in stark and aggressive conflict with the ideals of religion."

FOOD SOUGHT HERE FOR MADRID FORCES

Bishop McConnell Heads Drive for Supplies for Populace
in Loyalist Areas

GOAL SET AT 5,000 CASES

Leaders Hope to Offset Loss
From Destruction in Spain
of Normal Sources

The North American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy announced yesterday a food collection drive for the support of the Spanish Loyalists, men, women, and children. Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the Methodist Episcopal Church is chairman of the committee, which has adopted the slogan, "5,000 cases of food for Spain by March 1."

"It is our bounden duty as Americans and friends of liberty to rush as much food to the brave Loyalist defenders as is humanly possible," the Rev. Herman F. Reissig, executive secretary of the committee, said.

"We may not be able to join in the military defense of Spain against fascism," he said, "but we can do our share in rushing a case of milk, a carload of flour, a bale of clothing for every bomb the Fascists drop on a Spanish dairy, flour mill or clothing factory now serving the Spanish people."

The committee has a warehouse at 227 West Seventeenth Street, where volunteer workers pack crates of food, shoes and medical supplies and bale all kinds of clothing, everything from an infant's shirt to a raccoon coat. Many articles of clothing have the labels of leading department stores.

In the cellar of the warehouse are some 200 bales, each weighing about 350 pounds, and many large wooden crates awaiting shipment. They are addressed from the committee to the "Spanish Gov't., Cartagena, Spain."

So far the committee has dispatched two shiploads of food and clothing. The last one, early in January, included 200,000 pounds of clothing, 35,000 pairs of shoes, fifty tons of food and some medical supplies.

In the five metropolitan boroughs there are 150 receiving stations. A truck and volunteers in automobiles pick up the food and clothing and take them to the warehouse.

My books have been suppressed not only in Nazi Germany, but in Fascist Italy and in Austria, and just the other day, I read that a Catholic member of the Massachusetts legislature has filed a bill which would permanently bar my books from public and private libraries in the state."

The list of speakers will include Congressman Gerald Boileu of Wisconsin, John Toussaint Bernard of Minnesota, James Waterman Wise, former Editor of Opinion, Ashley P. $500 Given Spain at Cleveland Meeting

Ralph Bates Tells Audience of 1,000 That Spanish People Urge Americans to Demand U. S. Lif Embargo on Arms to Their Government

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 4.—Increased support for the Madrid government was reported here today by the North American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy, following Tuesday's mass meeting in the Engineers Auditorium under the chairmanship of Alexander F. Whitney, International President of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The meeting, attended by more than 1,000 persons, heard Ralph Bates, British author, tell his experiences on the Madrid battle-front, and responded with a collection of $500.

Describing the situation in Spain before the Republic in 1931, Bates declared that "two significant things about Spain will tell the whole story of the demand for a democratic government: first, the average daily wage of the Spanish peasant was 27 cents, and, secondly, 42 per cent of the population was illiterate and in many villages no one could read or write."

Bates said that the Spanish people deplore the attitude of the democratic governments of England, France and the United States for failure to sell supplies to the legally recognized Spanish government.

two-day conference adjourned

145 organizations represented by a total of 227 delegates. The vigilante committees in all localities where vigilantism constitutes a present or potential menace.

Organize Unorganized

3. A resolution calling for all assistance on the part of the League to organize the unemployed and unorganized employed, and further calling for efforts to combat discrimination in this work.

4. A resolution pledging the League to the support of the North American Committee for Defense of Spanish Democracy.

5. A resolution pledging the active hostility of the League to all anti-picketing ordinances, and giving the aid of the League in campaigns for their repeal.

6. A resolution supporting the boycott on all products from Nazi Germany.

Endorse League Program

The statement of policy of the conference, embodied by the main resolution on the war danger and the struggle for peace, endorsed the ten-point program of the American League Against War and Fascism.

It greeted "the recent declarations of President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull, at the Inter-American Peace Conference, as a partial step forward with other nations for democracy and peace against the fascist aggressor powers," especially welcoming, "the declaration of Secretary Hull calling for the organization of a mass people's movement, as the most powerful factor in the struggle for peace."

Soviet Peace Role

It called "upon the American Government to put these declarations into effect by active collaboration with the Soviet Union, France and the other nations that are mutually endangered from the threat of Fascist aggression, and by joining with them in putting its weight and authority against the violation of the sovereignty of Spain by Hitler and Mussolini, and by recognizing the full right of labor to take direct action."

The new state set-up of the League, approved by the conference, provides for a state executive committee, divided into Northern and Southern California Sections, to meet on call not less than every second month on either a sectional or state basis.

Plan Publicity

This committee will be responsible for the formation of a state advisory board. Three from each section, together with the state organizer, will form a committee of seven to co-ordinate the state work. It was voted also to arrange for research and publicity, including the publication of a state bulletin and arranging for a monthly California page in the national magazine of the League, "Fight."

Anti-fascist committees are to be set up in all parts of the state and committees formed in the large population areas to assist the work for civil and labor rights in the agricultural areas.

Approve League Branches

While the League is primarily a affiliate organization, the conference approved the building of membership branches in all communities represented by the conference.

Call Unions To Anti-War Meet

SAN FRANCISCO.—The necessity of organized labor getting behind the State Conference Against War and Fascism, to convene here the week-end of December 12th and 13th, was stressed by the American League Against War and Fascism in a letter sent to trade unions last week:

"The industrial - mobilization plan of the United States War Dept. . . . would come into operation the day we declared war. It would suspend child-labor laws, protection of women in industry, collective bargaining rights, and all other safeguards to labor.

"A government board under the chairmanship of 'an industrial leader' would devise 'measures to prevent grievances of employees, whether actual or imaginary, from interfering with war production.' The risk of having such a Fascist system fastened on this country is the gravest risk we run today."

~~Fascist Cause Never~~ Was a Spanish Cause

Communist Leader Describes Air Raid on Madrid, Fall of German Bomber—Five Fascist Planes Now Fall for Every Two of Loyalists

This is the second of a series of articles on the fighting in Spain by Robert Minor, member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party, who was correspondent for the Daily Worker on the Madrid front and who saw at first hand the actual fighting against the fascist columns of Franco and the troops of his allies, Hitler and Mussolini. Watch tomorrow's Daily Worker for the next article.

By Robert Minor

Madrid is now the center of the world and everybody knows it.

Here the fascist forces, on an international scale, and of all nations where fascism exists, are staking their claim for the conquest of Europe.

Here is where the question of war and peace—the question of whether we shall have an immediate Second World War—is being desperately fought out; because Spain is staked out as an essential foothold of the Third Reich of Hitler, to ensure the success of the military venture against European democracy. Already Germany's infiltration into Spain and into Spanish Morocco through Melilla, with perhaps rather small but powerfully equipped military units, has gone far toward the strategic arrangement which the German general staff considers necessary to give Hitler the possibility of fighting successfully in the Second World War which Hitler thinks he must soon begin. If Hitler wins Spain, the Second World War is prepared.

FASCIST CAUSE NOT SPANISH

The Fascist cause in Spain is not a Spanish cause and never was. The armies of Franco are not mainly Spanish troops, and never at any time was the decisive force of Franco composed of Spaniards. It is a war of international Fascism against Spain, and this is reflected in the composition of the troops. We do not know the exact proportion, but we know that Franco's forces would have collapsed within twelve hours if at any time of activity he had had to depend upon the native Spaniards in his ranks.

But by the middle of December, when Franco smashed his nose on the gates of Madrid, it became clear that the backbone of the then existing Spanish fascist armies had been broken.

Of the thousands of young Moroccans, lured by deceit and fraud from Africa by the fascist officers, the worst enemies of the Moroccan people—twelve thousand were dead or so injured as to be permanently out of the conflict. Because of the weakening of his original forces, Franco saw that a new phase of the fascist war had to begin.

rapidly, with a sharp crack that seems to come especially clear when these long guns are fired upward. But anti-aircraft guns, they say, never succeed in hitting an airplane. It is considered almost a foregone conclusion that no airplane will ever be brought down by an anti-aircraft gun. Nevertheless, the anti-aircraft guns are among the most necessary weapons. They are effective, because even though they hit nothing, they keep the enemy planes so high that the bombers cannot successfully aim at their objective on the ground. One particularly sharp and loud report seemed distinguishable amongst the anti-aircraft guns, and as I gazed upward, one of the German pursuit planes turned its nose downward, leaving a puff of white smoke behind it and plunged wildly to the earth, nose first.

Apparently the anti-aircraft gun had broken a tradition, and apparently also the shell had exploded in the machine and killed the occupants, for there was no sign of anyone jumping from the plane with a parachute.

Immediately all of the 40-odd pursuit planes swerved to the right and began quickly spiraling upward to get out of the range of the anti-aircraft guns. The big Junkers could not swerve so rapidly; they cannot maneuver so well, but appeared to be curving upward for greater safety. This curving upward hampered their aim, and most of the bombs that were falling from the German planes that day did little damage.

DEAD CHILDREN

Late in the evening, however, trucks were carrying wounded and the dead. One horse-drawn wagon was loaded with dead children. Madrid must be terrorized, and Hitler thinks that Europe can be conquered that way.

* * *

But the war in the air has already turned to a new course. Not only are many illusions exploded about the "irresistible" effectiveness of air-plane offensives against cities. When I left Spain a few days ago, I was told that for every two government planes that are shot down in present warfare, there are five German and Italian fascist planes shot down from the skies by the heroic defenders of Spanish democracy.

I will tell the story of the tanks in another installment—and that will be equally important to the study of modern warfare, of ingenuity and the powers of resistance and inventiveness of the new-made soldiers from civilian life.

THE NEW PHASE

With one of the foremost leaders of the government forces, I entered Madrid in the night of the beginning of the New Year, when this phase of the fascist war was beginning.

A new phase of the War in the Air was beginning.

At the first outbreak of the Civil War, most of the old airplanes of the Spanish army that were in the possession of the government were smashed and destroyed with a terrible loss of life. Big Italian bombing planes, like those which were exposed through being forced down in French Morocco on their way to Spain, dealt out a quick death to thousands. They played havoc with the Spanish military forces in general, and practically exterminated what remained of the Spanish air forces. Then the Spanish government obtained reinforcements of new and better planes, and the new duel of the air over Madrid began.

PICK WORKERS' SECTION

The sight of a fleet of bombing planes over a city is a frightful thing. I saw 19 big German Junkers, shining brightly in the sunlight, high above the city, going straight for their objective. What objective? They were seeking out the working class sections of Madrid. This was their tactics. In the working class sections, large crowds gather in long lines, about five abreast, waiting for certain essential food supplies. The German planes specialized in aiming tremendous aerial bombs at these crowds. It is a policy of frightfulness, a policy of trying to terrorize and break the spirit of the civilian population and, first of all, of the working class.

This kind of warfare is not aimed at any immediate military objective. No soldiers are killed. Very seldom does a single airplane bomb come anywhere near any military objective or endanger any man in uniform. It is just a studied policy of killing civilians for the purpose of breaking the courage of the population.

BOMBER IS BROUGHT DOWN

The sky was clear, but for a few white silvery clouds, and the 19 big Junkers began serenely dropping bombs which could be seen as they came close to the earth. From behind the silvery clouds emerged about 45 gray pursuit planes, German planes, serving to defend the bombers.

The anti-aircraft guns were firing

Ban Asked on Fascist Fund Collections

Is Hostile Act Against Spain, Hull Is Told
by American League

State Department action against soliciting of funds in the United States to aid the Fascist insurrection in Spain is asked in a letter to Secretary of State Hull from the national offices of the American League Against War and Fascism.

The League specifically cites a fund-gathering campaign being conducted by the American Committee Against Communism of the International Catholic Truth Society.

"This is a hostile act against a friendly government, and a violation of international policy which prohibits fomenting or aiding a rebellion against a friendly government," Paul M. Reid, executive secretary of the League, said.

LETTER TO HULL

The text of the letter to Hull:

"We wish to call to your attention and enter a strong protest against the action of the American Committee Against Communism in soliciting funds for the Spanish rebels.

"The American government recognizes the democratically elected government of Spain against which a military revolt is in progress. To permit American citizens to solicit aid for that revolt is to give encouragement to the foes of a recognized and friendly government.

"We urge an immediate investigation of this situation by the State Department and respectfully ask for a report from it regarding the action taken in this matter."

Is This Fair Play?

—(From the University of Notre Dame Religious Bulletin)

Propaganda for the existing Spanish "government" is about to inundate America. Within the last few days a letter has appeared in the readers' column of the Louisville Courier-Journal announcing a meeting in the Auditorium of the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville. The letter was signed by Laurence Lee Howe, chairman of the "Louisville Committee for the Aid of the Spanish People," under whose auspices the meeting was to be held. According to the letter, the four young Spaniards who were to speak at the meeting are being sponsored in America by none other than the "North American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy, of which Bishop Francis J. McConnell, president of the Federation of Churches of Christ in America, is chairman."

There you have the channels through which the muddy-red propaganda is to flow: A national committee headed by no less a person than Bishop McConnell; and, in as many cities and towns as possible, a local committee.

The story that these "respectable," "unselfish" American propagandists are to put across is, of course, one of truth, of liberty, of democracy. Here are two sentences from Mr. Howe's letter: "The Popular Front government went into office in Spain in February, 1936, after a free election" . . . (note that word, "free") . . . "So far from its being a 'Red' government, there were not, at that time, any radical parties in the cabinet. It was a liberal democratic government, similar to our own." (God save the mark!)

REVIEW, FRIDAY MORNING,

Can it be that Bishop McConnell and Mr. Howe are ignorant of the facts: that the election of February, 1936, was held in a state of terror; that Communists paraded Granada in armored cars; that voters were terrorized in Catalonia, in all Eastern and Southern Spain, and in Galicia; that, for fear of their lives, hundreds of thousands of voters kept away from the polls; that the Prime Minister, Portela Valladares, handed over the reins of government to the Popular Front even before election returns were in; that ballot boxes were destroyed in many places where the Right had gained smashing victories? Would the Bishop care to know the results of this so-called free election? Well, in spite of the fact that the so-called Popular Front gained, through terror, a majority of seats in the new Parliament, the parties opposed to the Popular Front had, according to official returns, a majority of more than 200,000 popular votes. The so-called "Popular" Front does not represent 40 per cent of the Spanish people.

Does Bishop McConnell know that, after the election, the "democratic" government of Spain took no steps to prevent the total destruction, within four months, of 160 churches, of 10 newspaper offices, of 63 Catholic centers? Does he know that, within four short months, 1556 persons had been killed and wounded under the rule of Spanish "democracy"? Does he care that, in the name of sweet liberty, opposition to the so-called Popular Front was not permitted to hold a single meeting of protest; that the conservative press was muzzled; that prisons were filled with thousands who had only tried to belong to some party of the Right; that ~~under~~ this "democracy" armed militia was formed and allowed to parade in Madrid, under the red flag of the hammer and sickle, singing the Internationale and shouting "Down with Spain, Long Live Russia"? In the face of such "democratic" conditions, the Insurgents finally became active.

The lines in Spain are clearly drawn. On the side of the Red government are the forces of Anarchism and Marxism, and behind them is Russia. Opposed are the Insurgents "fighting for God, for their land and their dead; fighting for their women and children, for the Cross, for the Church; they are fighting for the paintings of Velasquez, for the dramas of Lope, for the Quixote and for the Escorial; they are fighting for all the creations and all the values of 20 centuries of Christian culture."

And for these things sacred they will fight to the death. What filthy sinister influence would in the name of democracy join American Protestants ~~together~~ on the side of the Reds?

Aid to Spain Is Voted At Party Convention

Session Pledges to Continue Work for Formation of National Farmer-Labor Party with Aid of Labor and Progressive Groups

RED-BAITING SCORED BY SPEAKERS

Benson Urges Tax Revisions to Make the Rich Mining Interests Bear the Costs of Social and Unemployment Measures

By C. A. Hathaway
(Editor, Daily Worker)

ST. PAUL, Jan. 31.—The first off-year convention of the Minnesota Farmer-Labor Association was attended by 800 delegates from all counties of the state, and unanimously endorsed Governor Elmer A. Benson's legislative program as presented in his inaugural address.

It pledged the party to organize a "People's Pilgrimage" to the State Capitol to force its adoption.

The convention was opened Friday morning in the Municipal Auditorium with an address by Governor Benson, and concluded last night near midnight.

Besides the Governor's address and endorsement of the legislative program, the convention adopted resolutions calling for sending food, clothing and medical aid to Spanish democracy; for the release of Mooney, Billings, McNamara, Herndon, and the Scottsboro boys and for the removal of Victor Christgau and numerous other reactionary WPA officials.

TOWARD A NATIONAL PARTY

It endorsed Governor Benson's stand supporting the timber strikers which resulted in a closed shop for the new union and greatly improved conditions. A resolution adopted pledged continued work for a national Farmer-Labor Party in cooperation with the American Federation of Labor and Committee for Industrial Organization unions and all progressive bodies. There were dozens of other resolutions with a progressive stand on all questions.

All resolutions were adopted unanimously except that supporting Spain. On this, the rural delegates reflected the influence of the pure isolationist viewpoint: "Let's keep out of European affairs." The vote was 319 for and 242 against. The industrial regions—Ramsey, Hennepin, St. Louis Counties—stood most strongly for full support of the Democratic forces.

High lights of Benson's speech were:

1. Restatement of the progressive legislative program, stressing complete revision of the tax program, exempting farms and homes valued up to -4,000, and to place the burden on wealth, particularly on iron mining interests; revision of the social security law, repeal of the criminal syndicalism law, registration of lobbyists, curbing of loan sharks, restoration of party designation in legislative elections, union wages for state employes and restriction of state contracts to firms granting collective bargaining and union conditions, extension of the farm mortgage moratorium for two years, graduated land tax and farm tenancy.

DENOUNCE RED-BAITERS

2. An appeal for unity of the Farmer-Labor forces of the House and Senate behind the entire program and a call for a "People's Lobby" to compel conservatives to yield to election mandates.

3. Denunciation of red-baiting and appeal for continued unity.

Spain's Fifth Regiment --- And Its Communist Fighters

Iron-Nerved Carlos Contreras, Its Political Leader, Idolized by the Men — How the Communists Steeled the Discipline

By Robert Minor

ARTICLE VI

The Communist Party of Spain was not represented in the government at the beginning of the Civil War, and it was still a very small minority party, amongst the many political parties of Spain. But, as I said before, the Communist Party was the clearest-headed and most resolute of all political organizations in Spain.

A disciplined, unified, republican army was the first necessity, beginning with, first, a more consistent and effective resistance on the part of the scattered forces that existed, and rapidly developing these to a unified army with a single command and perfected organization and discipline. So the Communist Party picked out one regiment as a point of first concentration for the Party's aid to the victory of democracy.

They picked the Fifth Regiment. While serving in all regiments and companies, the Communist Party concentrated attention on the Fifth. "Fifth" meant nothing at that time but that among the regiments this was No. 5. But "Fifth Regiment" has since become the most glamorous name in all the military history of present-day Spain. The Communist Party sent its best people to volunteer in the Fifth Regiment, both as soldiers and, where they were chosen by the soldiers, as political commissars or leaders.

Amongst those assigned to the Fifth Regiment was Carlos Contreras, who has become one of the strongest figures and most popular leaders in the entire Spanish army. Carlos Contreras was once an immigrant worker in Detroit, Michigan, and later in Chicago. He became a Communist and joined the Communist Party in the United States.

And here he was in the trenches at Madrid. Everyone calls him "Carlos," every soldier, every commander, every government official.

Under the political leadership of Carlos, who was very quickly shunted into the position of political chief of the Regiment, working well with military experts, things began to happen. All of the nerve-racking confusion and squalor of the impoverished trenches began to disappear where the Fifth Regiment was stationed. Spare minutes were immediately used for improvement of the trenches. The old straight-line trenches gave way to zig-zag trenches to prevent enfilading by the enemy. The trenches were cleaned up, latrines were constructed.

The soldiers began to find that the ammunition fitted the rifles without fail, and as quickly as possible there were obtained enough bayonets to go around. This means a lot to soldiers. Soldiers don't feel right without bayonets. You sit in your trench under artillery barrage, charge that is soon to follow by the usually half-drunk and therefore reckless foreign legionnaires.

ORGANIZE EQUIPMENT

They will come with long, glistening bayonets, plus pistols, plus hand grenades, and you can't help go through all the motions in your mind, of what you will do when they charge. If you have no bayonet at the end of your gun, and have few rounds of ammunition, and no pistol, and no hand grenades, and have to take out all the rifle cartridges and examine each one and make sure you won't jam your own gun with the wrong size cartridge—then you don't feel right while awaiting the charge.

And the little nucleus of Communist Party members in the Fifth Regiment made all of these things their business—to organize so that everything was right.

The food supply, coming from the same stores as that of all other regiments, soon became systematized. Formerly, you would get nothing but sardines for a week, then starve for three days, and then receive a nice big consignment of salt and pepper (and nothing else) for the following week. System and order was brought into the supplies, and soon the Fifth Regiment began to make the best of its food supply, with the right proportion of bread and meat, even a little good red wine.

The soldiers of the Fifth Regiment could not help see that it was Carlos Contreras and the Communist nucleus that made the difference by inspiring organization and discipline. This is not to disparage the purely military commanding who are splendid and able men. But in civil war, bringing order out of chaos, is largely a political job of persuasion. Everybody began fighting better. Successes were made. The Fifth Regiment began to have steel helmets, just a few of them that they captured from the Foreign Legion as soon as they began to make the Foreign Legion give ground. The untrained civilians didn't want steel helmets. "Too heavy" was the general feeling, and men as could get them began to wear steel helmets.

But the Fifth Regiment had discipline and explanation. The frightful number of head-wounds was proof of the need of the steel helmets, and such of the Fifth Regiment as could get them to wear steel helmets.

THEY MAKE A PLEDGE

From the very beginning, literature began to appear, published by the Fifth Regiment headquarters for the soldiers, a daily newspaper, pamphlets, all sorts of tracts and handbills, explaining the cause of the Civil War, telling how to fight, how to use the bayonet, how to use hand grenades, how to keep clean in the trenches, and why it was necessary to stop the retreat and at all costs, even death itself, to hold the line around Madrid.

The most courageous soldier, after going through the experience of making up his mind to die at whatever minute he may be called upon, continues to want to know that if and when he is shot, he will be picked up and carried back by his comrades. It becomes a matter of terrific importance to him, what happens to him, even to his dead body, if he is killed. He wants to know that if he is wounded, he will be taken somewhere and given attention, and that if he dies that his body will not unnecessarily be left in that ugly no-man's-land, to rot and swell and stink.

It may be queer, but soldiers are that way. And the Communist Party fraction in the Fifth Regiment, living and fighting and dying with the other soldiers, learned just how they all think and feel. Therefore, pretty soon, on the initiative of the Communist Party members, the idea was introduced and discussed by the soldiers, "Let us make a pledge:

1) that we will never permit any member of our regiment to be taken prisoner;

2) that we will never leave a wounded soldier on the field to be taken by the enemy;

3) that we will never leave the dead body of one of our comrades to be taken possession of by the enemy."

A NEW STUBBORNNESS

The entire regiment adopted this rule with enthusiasm, and from then on a new stubbornness appeared in the fight. Not only was it said that for many weeks not a single living, wounded, or dead member of the Fifth Regiment fell into fascist hands, but also some astonishing military successes resulted.

In every dugout and behind every barricade in Spain, men and women were telling about the heroism of the Fifth Regiment, its superb organization, its discipline, that would not give way even to death. Spain had never before seen anything like the discipline of the Fifth Regiment. Not the boot-lick discipline of Alphonso's corrupt officers, but a discipline which the soldiers learned was the most necessary protection for themselves, an honor as well as a material advantage to them all—and the absolute prerequisite for victory.

The Fifth Regiment began to swell its ranks. The imagination of the youth of Spain was touched, and recruits flowed in so rapidly that the Fifth Regiment grew to the size of five or six regiments. The discipline spread, and the stories of success brought still more results. The Fifth Regiment became swollen to the size of ten regiments, and still it grew.

Nevertheless, all of these thousands of recruits insisted on being members of the Fifth Regiment. It

Pittsburgh Conference Condemns Trotzkyist Plotters Against U.S.S.R.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1.—Assembled at a conference to help the organization drive of steel workers, the most active members of the Communist Party, Young Communist League, local trade unions and fraternal groups yesterday condemned counter-revolutionary Trotzkyism.

The meeting adopted a resolution which urged the Central Committee of the Party to "convey our support to the Communist Party and the government of the Soviet Union in the struggle against counter-revolutionary Trotzkyism."

"We condemn the despicable murderous actions of Radek, Piatakov and their associates. We will uncompromisingly struggle against counter-revolutionary Trotzkyism in this and other countries."

came to pass that what was called the Fifth Regiment really consisted of about four armies, doing battle on several fronts, as the most reliable section of the Spanish armed forces.

5TH SUBDIVIDED

But the question of discipline also grew bigger, with the coming of the German shock-troops and the new German Junkers in great clouds. It became necessary to defend Spain, no longer with the old "defensive methods," but by means of a great all-front offensive. Therefore discipline had to take on a new and bigger meaning.

Therefore, under the inspiration of the little iron-nerved Communist nucleus which was also growing, in the Fifth Regiment, the offer was made to the Spanish government that the Fifth Regiment at last be sub-divided and distributed over Spain together with the other troops, as a means of inspiring superior organization and discipline of the army in general.

This process was all-important in the building of the new Republican army, which is winning victory after victory against not only the old and alcohol-soaked scum of the Foreign Legion, which, with all its recklessness, suffered a certain limitation in effectiveness, but also over the highest trained shock-troops of Hitler and Mussolini in Spain. The transformation was in process when I left Spain, but I don't doubt that the present victories of the people's army are definitely connected with the new and splendid discipline that was begun six months ago, most of all among the little band of half clad and almost bare-handed Communist boys and girls in the Fifth Regiment.

But if I speak of the heroism of the Spanish Communists, let no one conclude that the Communists have a monopoly of heroism there! And in tomorrow's Daily Worker I will tell of other groups and parties that have done their part to make the Spanish People's Front a glorious page in history.

VAN KLEECK ASKS FIGHT ON FASCISM

Urging support for the Women's Charter, a draft proposal of which has just been issued by the Joint Conference Group of Women in the United States for a Women's Charter, Miss Mary Van Kleeck, of the Inter-Professional Association, today declared:

"The need for a common platform is greater than at any other time in the history of the women's movement, because the menace of Fascism is clearly seen as the stopping of all progress for women, throwing them back to a passed status of inferiority. We must have unity against Fascism which first destroys the labor movement, and then destroys the woman's movement."

Miss Van Kleeck is one of the 26 members of the Joint Conference Group, which includes Miss Elizabeth Christman, National Women's Trade Union League of America; Mrs. Mary R. Beard, author and lecturer; and Miss Dorothy McConnell, delegate to the recent International Congress of Women Against War and Fascism.

ASKS CIVIL RIGHTS

The Women's Charter demands full political and civil rights for women, for full opportunity for education and work according to individual choice and ability, without discrimination because of sex and with safeguards against harmful working conditions and other forms of exploitation; for the right to leisure; for the safeguarding of motherhood; and for security of livelihood for themselves and their families. Miss Van Kleeck pointed out the progressiveness of its demands as compared to the Equal Rights Treaty sponsored by the National Woman's Party, which would do away with all of the protective measures that have been won for women by hard working women leaders.

The charter is the result of long preparations and discussion. The 1935 session of the League of Nations called for a study of equal rights and asked the cooperation of women's organizations. The International Labor Organization then prepared a report, compiled chiefly by the Women's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor.

COMMON AIM

"It was in the preparation of the report that the need for the Charter itself was first clearly defined," said Miss Van Kleeck. "We discovered we needed a common platform."

No measures for adoption of the Charter have as yet been taken. The Joint Conference is asking all trade unions, all youth organizations, professional organizations, all women's organizations, civil and social agencies, church and religious groups, and political parties to study the charter and prepare reports on how these provisions would affect their groups.

~~One-Seven~~th of New York's People Represented at Peace Parley

New York's peace forces today settled down to the work of organizing the biggest anti-war and anti-fascist front in the history of the nation following a memorable two-day conference of the city division of the ~~American League Against War and Fascism~~ on Friday and Saturday.

Hope for an all-embracing enlistment of the majority of the nation's population into a broad peace movement including every peace group in the country was voiced by leaders yesterday after the meeting held at the New School for Social Research.

WIDE REPRESENTATION

The possible wide scope of such a movement was seen in the fact that close to one-seventh of New York City's population was represented by the 460 delegates at the sessions of the conference on Saturday.

Exact figures have not yet been compiled from the flood of credentials but the latest total of people in the more than 400 organizations with delegates at the conference is 1,003,017. Duplication may bring the number down.

150 UNIONS REPRESENTED

Even more significant perhaps was the immense trade union representation at the gathering. Organized in the 150 unions which sent delegates are 338,000 workers in the city.

The figure represents the largest trade union assemblage at a conference in years. A total of 237 delegates were present from district councils and locals. S. R. Solomonick is secretary of the league's trade union division.

What makes all these figures significant as a true indication of the growing anti-war sentiment in the city is that the meeting was only the fourth annual conference.

Seeing the enormous possibilities before the ever-expanding league, delegates outlined as one of the main tasks of the organization during the coming year the strengthening of the peace forces in the United States. Paul Reid, national secretary, sounded the keynote of this organizing drive in an address to the delegates on Saturday afternoon and a resolution was passed in the evening embodying these plans.

HIT BAN ON SPAIN

The policy of the league in reaching its widest possible membership was indicated in the main resolutions passed at the Saturday evening general session which followed afternoon commission meetings. These resolutions were:

1. Opposition to Congress' arms embargo against the legally constituted Spanish government. Progressive members of Congress were urged to take a stand in favor of allowing the legal Spanish government to buy what arms it needed to put down the fascist rebellion provided such munitions were paid for in cash and shipped on Spanish boats.

2. Opposition to the present $1,000,000,000 war budget, the biggest peace-time war appropriation in history. Congress was called upon to use excess military appropriations for unemployment relief, education and aid to flood victims.

3. Opposition to the War Department's industrial mobilization plan which provides for compulsory draft, presidential price regulation, and industrial control when war is declared. The plan will conscript labor, muzzle the press, and set up "a military fascist dictatorship."

SUPPORT ETHIOPIA

4. Support of the heroic struggle of the Spanish people against the fascist forces of Franco, Hitler and Mussolini. Material aid to the Spanish defenders of democracy by the collection of funds, clothing, food, and medical supplies was urged.

5. On the occasion of Hitler's fourth year in power, fascism throughout the world as typified by the Nazi's reign of terror was denounced.

6. Continued non-recognition of the Italian conquest of Ethiopia and support of the valiant battle of the Ethiopian people against Mussolini's aggression despite tremendous odds was urged.

7. Congressional attempts to spike the Senate Civil Liberties Committee investigation of labor espionage were denounced and continuation of the work of the LaFollette committee in publicizing industrial spies was supported.

WISE SPEAKS

The vital need for an all-encompassing "war on war" as expressed by the hundreds of delegates was covered in a talk by Mrs. Stephen S. Wise who said:

"War and fascism are linked together as war makes fascism possible and fascism make war inevitable. There can be no delay if we would avert the spread of fascism with its inevitable destruction of all that civilization means."

Specialized work which various groups can do in combatting the twin menaces was discussed in commission sessions which were divided as follows: Trade Unions, Cultural, Language, Fraternal and Civic, Negro, Religious, Veterans, Women and Youth.

The conference was concluded with the election of a new executive board of 68. The group will elect an executive committee at a luncheon this Saturday.

Tell Rep. Bernard Fight

But Wires Show Voters

Duped, Others, Say

By Marguerite Young

(Daily Worker Washington Bureau)

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

Jan. 7.—A sheaf of congratulatory telegrams from workers and farmers back home rested today before Representative John Toussant Bernard of Minnesota—who stood alone in defense of Spanish democracy in Congress yesterday—and other Farmer-Labor legislators who voted against Spain and for the Roosevelt arms blockade were apologizing.

"Don't let them scare you, Johnny. Stick to the ship," a Wisconsin lad who had led in the organization of many unions wired Congressman Bernard. "Your vote was okay. Best regards."

The Workers' and Farmers' Co-operative Unit Alliance, a farmers' co-operative which blankets the Corsican-born miner's district, telegraphed him: "Your unwavering support of Spanish democracy warrants the admiration and support of all lovers of true democracy and liberty. We shall rally the Eighth District behind you to the last man."

HITS SHAM NEUTRALITY

Bernard was receiving congratulations from other members of the House also. He received them with this comment: "I voted against the embargo because it was not neutrality, but an un-neutral act. Therefore, what had I to be afraid of? I know my people. I knew they would stand behind me against any fake neutrality and in defense of democracy."

Dr. Ward Warns of Fascist War Drive

Head of American League Against War and Fascism Speaks at Mid-West Conference—Van A. Bittner and Meta Berger Greet Chicago Parley

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 12.—A Fascist international, headed by Hitler and Mussolini, "is determined to destroy throughout the world the democratic principle that a people is entitled to choose its own form of government," said Dr. Harry F. Ward, speaking at the opening mass meeting here of the Mid-West Conference on Peace and Democracy, Friday night.

The conference of delegates from seven states was called by the American League Against War and Fascism, and 250 delegates had arrived when the opening took place.

BITTNER SPEAKS

Van A. Bittner, head of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee in the Great Lakes Region was another of the opening speakers.

"Industrial Fascism is the basis of political Fascism," said Bittner. He explained the necessity of destroying this industrial Fascism and winning industrial democracy in order to obtain political democracy. He pointed to the open shops in steel, auto and other basic industries as the backbone of the organized oppression of the workers in this country, and the fruitful root of Fascist development.

META BERGER URGES UNITY

Another speaker on the program was Bishop Edgar Blake of Detroit who described himself as "a Jeffersonian Democrat or a Lincoln Republican" who believed in that part of the Declaration of Independence which says that "governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Still another was Mrs. Meta Berger, who declared herself a Socialist in good standing, "but a Socialist who is not afraid to shake the hand of a Communist."

"In fact," said Mrs. Berger, "I have always seen that it is the Communists who are willing to give most, and sacrifice most, for the good of the people."

ARMS BAN ASSAILED

She scored the hypocrisy at "disarmament conferences" and likened it to the hypocrisy of "non-intervention" in Spain, which actually helps only the Fascists.

Chairman Robert Morse Lovett, before introducing the speakers, also denounced the embargo on arms shipments to the Spanish government as "a blow to Democracy when it is defending itself against Fascist invaders."

"It is difficult to see how we are going to develop democracy in any part of the world if the Fascist international carries out its policies," Ward said in his speech.

HITS INTERVENTION

"Actually, in the Orient, Japan is attacking China on the pretext of stopping the people from choosing the form of government Japan does not like. And in Spain, Italy and Germany have declared war on democracy, particularly People's Front democracy."

Mussolini and Hitler, said Ward, speak of scorn of the very principle of democracy. They destroyed it within their own borders, and now they attack it outside their borders.

Ward told of Count Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law, declaring to Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, that Italy would not stand for a "Communist government" in Spain. Asked what he meant, Ciano said that the "degree of influence of the Soviet Union" would be his standard of judgment, and that Italy would make the decision.

WARNS ON SPAIN

Hitler, still less subtle, openly declared in 1924 that he intended to destroy parliamentarism and democracy and his every act since this has been in line with his statement.

"In Spain today," said Ward, "Fascist troops are attacking. Next will come Czecho-Slovakia, and then France, and then the rest of the World. What is the United States doing?"

It is not keeping the United States out of war, nor keeping war out of the world, to give the fascists support against a government chosen by its own people, Ward pointed out.

He deplored that the "natural isolationism" of the Mid-continent has been useful to Hitler, Mussolini and Franco. The Fascists would have been stopped long ago in Spain if the United States, Britain and France had taken a firm stand at the beginning, and this would also have lessened the danger of war.

Speakers condemned the enlarged military appropriations of the Federal budget.

The meeting was held in Orchestra Hall. Sessions continued Saturday with a program speech by Ward, and with a round table discussion of the fascist problems and the war danger as trade unionists, youth, women and religious groups face them. A final conference was held Sunday to sum up.

18,000 JAM GARDEN FOR SPAIN RALLY

De los Rios Tells Garden Rally War Is Between Progress and Reaction

Victory for the Spanish people over fascism was predicted last night by Ambassador Fernando de los Rios of Spain before 18,000 persons at a Madison Square Garden rally sponsored by the United Spanish Societies.

Speaking to people of his own country on the battlefields defending Madrid, he said:

"I believe victory will be yours because I believe in justice and because I believe in the future of Spain."

Dr. de los Rios frankly discussed the Spanish Civil War situation with the large New York audience. After outlining the background of the conflict, he declared:

"But as the power of the present government rests fundamentally on the enthusiastic support of the masses, this civil war has inevitably reached the state of social revolution. It could not be otherwise."

DEWEY PRESIDES

"The policies of a government supported and protected by the masses must express the feelings and hopes of those who support it; those policies must incarnate the ideal of justice which Spain is seeking. The transition to a new order could have been accomplished peacefully, but the darlings of privilege would not have it so."

The Spanish Ambassador was introduced by Prof. John Dewey of Columbia University in his first public appearance in New York.

Preceding him on the platform were a number of prominent public figures who pledged their support for the fighting Spanish people.

They included: Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the Methodist Episcopal Church; Ralph Bates, outstanding English novelist; Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, professor at the Union Theological Seminary; Rabbi Stephen Wise of the Free Syn-

World Peace Group Asks Data on Arms

Urge Non-Intervention Strictly Enforced or Spain Sold Supplies

PARIS, Jan. 4.—A special conference organized by the World Committee Against War and Fascism here last month has just published a resolution adopted there, which demands Britain and France set a date by which time either real non-intervention exists, or the Spanish Republic gets the right to buy supplies.

The conference was presided over by Professor Paul Langevin, president of the World Committee, and by Professor Victor Barsch, and was attended by 250 people recognized as leaders in their respective spheres.

Among the many representatives of French, English, Belgium, Dutch and Czechoslovakian organizations who attended the conference were: Wilfred Roberts M.P. (Liberal) and Crawford Greene M.P. (Conservative), members of the British Parliamentary delegation which recently visited Madrid; Eleanor Rathbone M.P.; Dr. Marteaux, Belgian deputy and J. Zyromski of the French Socialist Party, members of the World Committee delegation to Spain, just returned from Madrid; Julius Deutsch, Austria, former Socialist Minister; Pastor N. Padt and N. H. Stempels (Liberal), Holland; Senator Smeral, Czechoslovakia; R. Breitscheid, former member of the German Reichstag; Heinrich Mann, German author; Professor G. Catlin and Dr. J. D. Bernal, England; and from France, Messrs. Grumbach, Archimbaud and Peri, deputies; Senators Morizet and Cachin; M. Emile Borel, President of the French League of Nations Society and former Minister; Mme. Malaterre-Sellier, French delegate to the League of Nations; and M. J. R. Blach.

Reports on the situation in Spain were given by Wilfred Roberts M.P., Jean Zyromski, Dr. Marteaux and Julius Deutsch. Among the other speakers were Miss Eleanor Rathbone M.P., Professor Albert Bayet, Senator Cachin, Lhilde (Czechoslovakia), N. H. Stempels and Professor Catlin.

The resolution approved of an "effective blockade of the frontiers of Spain and Portugal" but warned that the present situation with negotiations dragging out merely hampers the Spanish government while helping the fascists. Then followed the demand for enforcing real non-intervention or giving up the fake neutrality and allowing "full liberty of action in furnishing supplies to the Spanish Republic."

ANNA LOUISE STRONG

Anna Strong Is Returning From Spain

Will Be Feted at Banquet by Notables of Art and Literary Circles

When New Yorkers gather tomorrow night at the Manhattan Opera House to honor Anna Louise Strong, the occasion will bring together many of the early travellers to the infant Soviet Republic of two decades ago—the men and women whose spot-news accounts of the early days of the revolution kindled the flame of sympathy and understanding among the people of the United States.

Miss Strong will arrive tomorrow on the Aquitania, after a month spent around the first-line trenches of Madrid, bringing personal accounts of the latest developments in war-torn Spain and interviews with all the leading figures in the Government's famed volunteer International Brigade.

NOTABLES TO ATTEND

Albert Rhys Williams and Bessie Beatty, two of the witnesses with John Reed before the Senate Committee on Russia of Feb. 21, 1919. (The Palmer investigations) will be present. Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, who worked with Miss Strong in the Seattle I. W. W. trials and the Seattle general strike of 1919, will be one of the speakers. General Victor A. Yakhontoff, who was in Russia at the time and whose books on the Soviet Union and the Far East are familiar to thousands of Americans, will be another notable at the banquet.

In addition to these men and women, outstanding leaders in literature and the arts will attend: Pearl S. Buck, author of "The Good Earth" and numerous other books; Stefan Zimbalist, world-renowned violinist, whose tours of the Soviet Union have endeared him to the Soviet, as well as the American, musical public; Carl Van Doren, noted author and critic; Maurice Hindus, author of "Broken Earth," "Humanity Uprooted," "Moscow Skies" and other books; Joseph Freeman, author of "An American Testament" and editor of the "New Masses"; Leane Zugsmith, author of the popular "A Time to Remember."

FUNDS FOR SPAIN

Since the proceeds of the banquet are to go toward the defense of the Spanish Government, another speaker will be present who symbolizes American aid to Spain. She is Mrs. Ernestina Gonzales Fleischman, widow of Leo Fleischman, the first American to be killed in the fighting against the Fascists.

Tickets for the banquet are still available and may be obtained at the office of Soviet Russia Today, 824 Broadway (corner of 12th St.), or by telephoning the Banquet Committee at Algonquin 4-2378.

$1,000,000 Total Aid Raised Here for Spain

North American Committee Accounting Includes Money, Food, Clothing and Medical Supplies
Sent to Defenders of Spanish Democracy

One million dollars has been raised in the United States for Spain.

Announcement of the million dollar figure as the total for Spanish aid collected throughout the nation was made by the North American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy yesterday.

The amount represents money, clothing, food and medical supplies donated by workers from coast to coast to the North American Committee and its subsidiary groups.

Despite a tremendous outlay of funds for supplies, which were placed on two Spanish ships, the Sil and Mar Cantabrico, the New York office of the committee yesterday reported a balance of $88,000 in the bank.

$230,000 CARGO

Its warehouse at 227 W. 17th St. was emptied of 600 bales of clothing valued at $200,000 and 35,000 pairs of shoes estimated at $30,000 last week by the Spanish freighter Mar Cantabrico. The large loft is rapidly being filled again as a flood of contributions keeps coming in from cities and towns throughout the country.

The shipment last week included $4,000 worth of food, donated by friends of Spanish democracy.

PLEDGE 100,000 GARMENTS

The Trade Union Committee to Manufacture Clothing for Spain has already shipped 25,000 new garments to the brave defenders of Madrid, and has pledged to make 75,000 more.

More than $30,000 in cash and equipment has been received by the Medical Bureau of the American Friends of Spanish Democracy, which is dispatching a complete field hospital to Spain on the liner Paris Saturday.

UNIONS RAISED $160,000

The Spanish Anti-Fascist Committee, composed of a number of Spanish organizations, including Communist, Socialist and Anarchist groups, shipped 32 U. S. Army field kitchens on the Mar Cantabrico and has raised thousands of dollars from Spanish-Americans loyal to democracy.

Money has also been pouring into the American Society for Technical Aid to Spanish Democracy, which plans to send workers to Spain to displace native Spaniards who want to go to the front and drive the fascists from their country.

Not included in the million dollar figure is $160,000 raised by trade unions for the Spanish Labor Solidarity Fund, under the leadership of David Dubinsky of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union.

Americans: Will We Abide By These Base Betrayals?

By I. AMTER
(New York State Secretary, Communist Party)

Thirty thousand fresh fascist troops equipped with airplanes, bombers, tanks, machine guns, gases and grenades, are landing in Spain, to drown the country in blood. They are sent by Hitler and Mussolini.

The United States Congress, transgressing all international law, has declared an embargo on supplies to the democratic Spanish government.

On August 14, 1936, speaking in the election campaign at Chautauqua, N. Y., President Roosevelt sharply attacked the war-making nations, fascist Germany, Italy and Japan. He called upon the people to rise in their wrath and might and put an end to war maneuvers.

ENGLAND'S MANEUVER

Later Roosevelt, accompanied by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, traveled to Buenos Aires, to participate in the Inter-American peace conference. At this conference, both he and Hull declared to the world, that a threat to peace anywhere is a threat to peace throughout the world. In short, to keep the Americas out of war the Americas would have to keep war out of the world. To be sure, not alone, but in association with the peaceful nations of the world—not only nations based upon peace—like the Soviet Union, but also those nations that today wish to maintain peace for their own reasons—like England, France, Czechoslovakia, etc.

England makes a fake peace maneuver by concluding a "peace," a "status quo" treaty with Italy. And at the very moment that the treaty is being signed, 10,000 fascist Italian troops are in Cadiz for shipment across to Spain! England knows it—but closes her eyes to the fascist trick—in the "name of peace."

BLUM CLOSES HIS EYES

France, in the person of Leon Blum, the Socialist premier, ostrich-like, refuses to see the vise being closed on its own People's Front by Hitler and Mussolini. France continues its do-nothing policy. All Blum and Baldwin do is to ask Hitler and Mussolini to stop intervention. And 30,000 fresh fascist troops march into Spain to shower death and destruction on women and children, on schools and hospitals, from the skies.

To complete the perfidy—the most shameless treachery of our day—

Roosevelt addresses the United States Congress and demands immediate action to prevent the people of Spain from obtaining the supplies needed to protect themselves from these bloody attacks—from the efforts of world fascism to drown democracy in Spain. If democracy in Spain is destroyed, then democracy the world over is in danger. "A threat to peace anywhere is a threat to peace the world over!"

ONE MAN WITH BACKBONE

And the United States Congress, despite efforts in "argument" and pleading, votes: in the U. S. Senate unanimously, in the House of Representatives against the vote of one sole fighting Minnesota Farmer-Laborite, John T. Bernard, to deny all rights of purchase of war supplies to the fighting Spanish people! Bernard's name will go down in the history of this country as the only man of backbone in the United States Congress today!

But what about us 125,000,000 Americans! Is this what 27,000,000 voted for on Nov. 3? Is this not what Hearst, the Liberty League, U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Manufacturers' Association stood and stand for? Did they then after all win the elections? Is this not merely stirring the fascists to more boldness, more open warfare? Whom have Hitler, Mussolini and Japan to fear? Is it really nobody?

Is the world helpless? NO, WE, THE PEOPLE, ARE STILL HERE.

MUST ACT NOW

Shall we wait till this act of Roosevelt and his Congress actually drags us into war? Shall war supplies continue to go from the United States with government approval to Japan, Germany and Mussolini—both directly and indirectly—while a legally constituted government threatened in its own country by insurrectionists aided by bloody butchers, is denied its legal rights—by a United States Congress that has only one man with guts enough to fight against the whole war pack?

Are we helpless? WE ARE NOT.
Then let us act—AT ONCE! The American people want peace. They hate fascism. They see fascism attempting to destroy democracy. PEACE AND DEMOCRACY CAN BE PRESERVED IN SPAIN AND THROUGHOUT THE WORLD—ONLY THROUGH UNITED ACTION OF THE PEOPLE.
WE ARE THE PEOPLE. LET US ACT WITHOUT DELAY.

The American League Against War and Fascism is the beginning of the assembly of the people in the struggle against war and fascism, and for peace. Unions, farm organizations, fraternal, Negro Woman's, Youth organizations are affiliated to it. It represents millions of people—but not yet enough. We who are in the American League have a responsibility. We must reach the tens of millions of Americans who want peace, who want democracy preserved today in Spain. These organizations are of all kinds—church, pacifist, conservative, progressive. We can and must reach them and their membership. A new war will shatter them as it will us. Unity will preserve peace. A common ground of action exists. That ground exists in the present, burning world situation which only the people can meet.

MUST FORCE ACTION

Members of the American League—workers, farmers, Negroes, women, youth: the fate of democracy and peace lies in our hands. Millions of people in Europe are working in the same direction. The 180,000,000 people of the Soviet Union are as ONE in the desire and will to peace.

And above all COMMUNISTS: We bear the greatest responsibility of all—responsibility for the whole world, for everything in the world. Hitler's move against Bolshevism is only a cover for the march of fascism against democracy all over the earth. Hitler does not yet dare to attack the Soviet Union—his main goal. He hopes first to be able to destroy man's faith in democracy, to wipe out democracy in every form, and then proceed against Bolshevism. Therefore the defense of democracy and peace is the center of the struggle against fascism. And democracy is bleeding.

Let's act now! Time dare not be lost. Reach the organizations of the people. Speak to their leaders, to their members. Bring them together in the neighborhoods, on a city and state scale. No time dare be lost! Men and women are bleeding in Spain. Hitler and Mussolini think they are unchallenged. England, France, the United States—the "great democracies"—do not act. They won't act unless WE, THE PEOPLE, force them to act. Bring the mighty American workers and farmers, for peace, progressives of all shades together FOR ACTION—NOW! WE DON'T HAVE TO ACCEPT THE BETRAYALS OF OUR RULERS. WE ARE THE PEOPLE.

FIGHT BOYCOTT GROWING FAST

208 Organizations Join Anti-Nazi League in Move Against Schmeling-Braddock Go-Champ's Manager Would Prefer Joe Louis Fight Now

By Joseph Smith

Spreading like wildfire, the boycott threatening the Braddock-Schmeling heavyweight championship battle, scheduled for June 3, assumed proportions which made it almost certain that the fight would be doomed.

Joining the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League in a nation-wide movement to boycott the Nazi Schlager, the Jewish War Veterans of the United States, an organization of 250,000 added their mighty voice to the hundreds of Catholic and Protestant organizations, trade unions and fraternal orders, seeking to stop the fight from being held in this country.

Delegates from 208 Jersey organizations, representing more than 50,000 people, attended a meeting called by the Newark district of the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League, yesterday afternoon, and voted to support the boycott.

The Patriotic Men's and Women's Society, an organization of 42,000 members, passed a resolution Friday night at Hotel Commodore, endorsing the boycott. A committee of the society will visit the Boxing Commission tomorrow afternoon and demand that the fight be cancelled.

GOULD GIVES UP

Another factor which seemed to indicate that the "Battle of the Century" was headed straight for the ashcan, was the announcement of Joe Gould, Jim Braddock's manager, that he would not permit his charge to take part in the fight if the boycott got in full swing.

"My job as the champ's business manager," Joe correctly emphasized, "is to see that Braddock makes some money out of his fights, but as the matter stands now the fight could be held in a telephone booth and probably Jim wouldn't make enough to buy him a taxi ride home."

Meanwhile the walls emanating from the offices of the Madison Square Garden and the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, co-promoters of the fight, clearly indicated that the boycott threat was having its effects.

"GIMME MY MONEY BACK"

Especially loud in his disappointment has been Mike Jacobs, promoter of the Hippodrome, who was wondering what would become of the $31,000 which he advanced to Der Mox at the time the fight was signed.

While no official statement has been forthcoming from Mike, pending the outcome of the conference of his attorney, Saul Strauss, with the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League, the general opinion prevails that Mike would like to see his thirty-one Gee's back again and forget the whole matter.

News of the boycott has reached Germany and the Nazi papers are carrying full column hysterical stories about "Jewish conspiracy and red attempts to blackmail Schmeling."

The papers also talk of bringing the fight to Germany, confirming the prediction made by the Daily Worker that the boycott would revive the movement to switch the battle to Berlin.

The only hitch to the matter is that Braddock is not at all anxious to do his battling in poverty-ridden Nazi-Germany, and also doesn't like that Hitler law which virtually makes it impossible to take money out of the Nazi paradise.

JIM WOULD PREFER JOE

What Braddock would probably like most, is to buy back his introduction to Hitler's uhlan, and take on Joe Louis, the greatest fist attraction in the country.

The champ who fought his way up from the relief rolls to the top needs the money. And it is the duty of our Boxing Commission to right the wrong which they have done to Jim by cancelling the Schmeling fight and match the champ with the foremost American challenger, Joe Louis.

That is—if the opinion of millions of people means anything to the erratic souls at Centre Street.
It's your move gentlemen!

Unions Back Parley Against War, Fascism

Midwest Conference Is Scheduled for Jan. 9 in Chicago

(Daily Worker Midwest Bureau)

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 3.—A great trade union response is reported to the American League Against War and Fascism's Midwest Conference, scheduled for Jan. 9, in Chicago. Unions from as far away as Pittsburgh and Kansas City have sent in credentials for delegates to the anti-war meeting. Interest is especially active among steel workers' lodges in the Chicago-Calumet area, but A. F. of L. unions among the various crafts are also well represented.

The labor organizations will unite with church groups, peace societies, fraternal and language organizations, political and cultural groups, to discuss and plan active defense measures against war and fascism.

New Magazine Fights Twin Evils

A main purpose of the publication of Jewish Life, the new magazine which appeared for the first time this month, is the fight against anti-Semitism and fascism. Contrary to the beliefs of many Jewish nationalist and bourgeois organizations, the editorial board of this monthly, issued by the New York State Jewish Bureau of the Communist Party, is convinced that the relation between these two evils is but two sides of the same coin.

The magazine concludes that anti-Semitism and fascism can only be effectively combatted by means of a Jewish People's Front which will be an integral part of the American People's Front.

The extension of the theory that anti-Semitism and fascism go hand in hand is an explanation of the aims of the Communist Party in regard to these two points. To clarify that attitude to the many non-Yiddish reading Jews of America is a no less important purpose of this magazine.

The main article in the first issue discusses the proposed partition of Palestine and makes it clear that this move is dictated by British imperialist interests at the present moment and not by a regard for the welfare of either the Jewish or Arab masses of Palestine.

Other articles deal with Trotsky's ridiculous claim that the Soviet Union is anti-Semitic, various communications including greetings from Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist Party, U.S.A. and I. Amter, of the New York District of that Party, book reviews, and notes of the month.

The editorial board is composed of John Arnold, H. I. Costrell, I. Goldberg, Paul Novick and Henry Sand.

A few days after publication the demand for Jewish Life made a second printing necessary.

TWO BIG UNIONS BACK AMERICAN LEAGUE PARLEY

Communications, Mari- time Unions Support 4th Annual Meeting

Two great national trade unions have endorsed the Fourth Congress of the American League Against War and Fascism to date. It was announced yesterday by the national office of the league. The unions are the American Communications Association, formerly known as the American Radio Telegraphists Association, and the National Maritime Union.

The Fourth Congress, according to an announcement issued by the American League, will be called the People's Congress for Democracy and Peace, and it will meet in Pittsburgh, Pa., on the week-end of Nov. 26-28. An abstract of the announcement follows:

Reactionary forces, led and encouraged by the Fascist International, are destroying democracy and making war. Spain is torn by fascist revolt. The two leading fascist states, Italy and Germany, are the main instigators of that revolt. In Poland, Czechoslovakia, Brazil, everywhere, efforts are being made to smash democratic governments. Nation after nation is developing a war economy.

Here in the United States we are confronted by the Industrial Mobilization Bill, another billion dollar war budget, force and violence against workers and farmers, and wide-spread attacks on democratic rights. Big employers are working behind the scenes to enact regulatory labor laws that would hamper union organization and destroy recent gains. They want to use the state to cripple labor unions and bring them under employer control.

All organizations working for democracy and peace are urged to mark these dates and ~~plan to send delegates to~~ send delegates to Pittsburgh to this People's Congress for Democracy and Peace.

Ban on Nazi Meet Hailed By Communists

Wisconsin C. P. Glad That Veterans Are Starting to Fight Nazis

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 8. —
The Kenosha City Council's revocation of the permit for the demonstration by the Nazi Volksbund is "a victory for the people of Kenosha and Wisconsin over the un-American, anti-labor agents of Hitler in our midst," the Communist Party State Committee, in a statement issued by Ned Sparks, state secretary, and Fred Bassett, state organizer, declared today.

"We are confident that the American people are beginning to see the character of these Nazi organizations and to recognize that Nazism is the sworn enemy of labor, of religious freedom, of every sort of democracy known to the freedom-loving American people," the statement says.

"We are particularly glad to see that the leaders of the veterans' organizations are finally stepping forward in their proper role as defenders of American democracy against the ideas of Nazi tyranny, in keeping with the spirit in which so many thousands of our veterans gave their lives. We regret that Mr. Kastner, Commander of the Army and Navy Union, still thinks it necessary to couple Communism with Nazism as twin dangers. In our opinion, this is an unfortunate hangover of old habits of speech which the great majority of American citizens have long gotten rid of.
Everybody knows that the Communist Party today, far from being a danger to American democracy, stands in the forefront of the fight to preserve American democracy against the danger of Fascism, in the spirit of the idealism which our forefathers fought in 1776 and 1861."
